THE WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP.

My Dear Friends,

This year again I want to place our Magazine in your hands before this season of good-will has passed. To you all Mrs. Maclaren and I sincerely express the wish that the coming year will be one of prosperity and happiness in the highest and best sense.

We have visited you often during the past twelve months and I again must thank you for the kindly welcome we always get from you.

What an eventful year the past has been to many of you ; and what a perplexing Christmas you would have had a year ago had you known what 1930 would bring. But with fatherly wisdom God graciously veiled the way. And with gentle but sure hand He fitted you for the journey. Many of you have passed through hard experiences, and one has wondered how you have been able to bear the strain. But I suppose none wonders about that more than you do yourselves, and now that you look back you can only believe that you were borne along by a strength that must have come from God.

To others, the year has been more like a voyage in which the storms have been all but forgotten by the unfailing return of fair weather.

And now we are anticipating another stage in our journey. May this Yule-tide be to you all a happy halt by the way. A time when the travel-stains of the past will be got rid of, and when we shall put on fresh hope and courage for the road that stretches out through 1931.

But there is only one sure way to do that, and that is by placing our trust in Him Who knoweth the end from the beginning. That you may be able to do that is our sincere wish, arising, as it does, out of our own experience.

Believe me, your friend and Rector,
D. M. MACLAREN.

SIDESMEN'S DUTY FOR JANUARY.

Jan. 4—Mr. T. Adams.

18— „ T. Machin.
25— „ G. Winterbottom.
Deputy sidesmen :—Messrs. G. Porter, R. B. Porter, F. R. Elliott, G. Porter.

There was an excellent attendance at the Fellowship Meeting on Monday, December the 8th when it was arranged that the annual Social will be held in the Manor Room on Wednesday January the 14th, commencing at 7 p.m.

It was agreed that all members should bring a friend, husbands and gentlemen friends especially being invited. After refreshments had been served, Mrs. Maclaren welcomed, in the name of the Fellowship, the Rev. H. J. Stamper, Vicar of Skegby, who had kindly come to address the meeting.

It would be difficult to find a speaker, especially in this neighbourhood, more fitted to give christian advice than Mr. Stamper ; for behind all that he says is a lifetime of pastoral care for the people. His words were listened to with evident appreciation, and his genial presence was enjoyed by all. In thanking him Mrs. Maclaren expressed the hope that he would visit the Fellowship again on some future occasion.

The next meeting will be the Quarterly Service in Church on Monday January the 5th at 6-30 p.m. which will be conducted by the Rector.

CAROL SINGING.

The Rector and Mrs. Maclaren, with a number of young friends hope—weather permitting—to tour the parish on the evenings of Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of Christmas week carol singing. Helpers are invited from the choir and congregation, and all joining will be heartily welcomed. The party will meet at Fackley Corner on Monday evening at 7 o'clock, and after visiting the houses near there will proceed to Fackley Road, Carnarvon Street and Crompton Street. On Tuesday evening the meeting place will be Teversal Post Office, again at 7 o'clock, when it is hoped that Hucklecroft, Teversal village, Teversal Yard and Silverhill will be toured.

On Wednesday again at 7 o'clock the meeting place will be Fackley Corner and that evening if possible, the outlying parts of the parish will be reached, finishing at the Rectory in time to ring Christmas in. It will be a great help if all who can will bring lanterns, and if the start be made each evening not later than the appointed time.

Collections will be received each evening en-route in aid of the Church renovating fund.

NEW CHURCH CHAIRS.

The response made to the Rector's appeal for chairs for use in Church when extra seating accommodation is required has been most gratifying. Not only friends belonging to our own congregation but some who belong to other Churches have kindly offered to provide a chair or chairs. The Rector hopes to call early in the New Year on all who have made known to him their desire to help our Church in this way, and he would be glad to know of any others who would like him to visit them for that purpose.

He hopes that the list of donors will soon be complete.

HOSPITAL POUND DAY.

On Monday December 1st the annual contributions were made towards Mansfield Hospital Pound day and as last year the reponse was very gratifying.

The Directors of Nottingham General Hospital have asked that January 25th be the day upon which our offerings shall be taken in aid of that institution; and in view of the fact that several of our people have been treated there, as well as in recognition of the great work done for all districts, it is hoped that our gifts will be generous.

The Rectory,
Teversal,
February, 1931.

My Dear Friends,

I find it impossible to write to you this month without saying something of the season through which we are passing, for, stretching as it does, over a period of more than forty days, Lent calls upon us all to give some solemn thought to the great verities of life. Two facts occur to me at this moment, one is, the amazing speed with which the seasons come and go. The other, the indubitable witness that their coming and going leaves. Never a week passes without some reminder being given us that we are but sojourners here, but this season of all others accentuates that solemn truth. There is not a section of the church that is not at this season urging in some special way the message of the Gospel, and that is being done perhaps more now than ever in the past.

But what is the common impression given by it all? That this is a season when christian people should be more devoted to God? When they should realize more seriously their obligations as professed followers of Jesus Christ?

It would be great if even only that could be accomplished, but if that ended it, this season would fall far short of its true purpose. As a matter of fact, to the true christian, more devotion to God should be impossible, for the least he should do is to love the Lord his God with all his heart, and with all his soul, and with all his mind the whole year round. And to realize his christian obligations more seriously at this season than at any other time should also be impossible. If our relationship to God is real, our feelings about it should be as natural as those we experience in connection with the dearest relationships we have on earth.

Suppose for instance that you owed your best in life, even life itself, to some dear one whose years were spent solely for your happiness and comfort, whose highest ambition was your highest good, and who, to achieve that wore life out before its time, could there be any day upon which your devotion to that sacred memory would change? We know some whose greatest inspiration in life is just such a memory. A constant picture of a loved one that can never fade while time shall last. But while every day witnesses the same tender recollections there are some days that call forth special tokens of remembrance. It may be the anniversary of a birthday, or a marriage, or, more sacred still, the last day spent on earth. And as those sacred and secret seasons draw near, grateful memories seek opportunities of expression in little ministries of remembrance that befit the sacred associations they recall.

That, my friends is the purpose of Lent, when the mind has brought home to it Christ's life of devotion and sacrifice on our behalf. In this connection Lent might be called the touchstone of christian reality. If its solemnities have to be enforced upon us, then it is only a prolonged religious rite that may or may not be consistently observed. But if its sacred demands arise from grateful remembrance of the Saviour's love, all that this season calls for in greater sacrifice or more strenuous service will be given as our glad privilege.

When that conception of Lent grips the soul of the Church the day will not be far distant when, "The knowledge of the Lord shall cover the earth as the waters cover the sea," for not one of her members shall rest content until all shall know the Lord, from the least even unto the greatest.

Believe me, your friend and Rector,
D. M. MACLAREN.

THE WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP.

The February Fellowship Meeting, in spite of the change of date, was well attended.

After the usual opening Nurse Grant gave her second talk on "Home Emergency Nursing," dealing specially with treatment necessary to pneumonia patients.

Following her lecture, Nurse Grant answered several questions in which some very practical information was given. Mrs. Maclaren thanked her for her helpful, and very interesting address. The next meeting will be held on Wednesday, March 4th, at 7 p.m., not Monday, March 2nd, and will be combined with the Lantern Service in church.

As there will be some important business to discuss after the meeting a good attendance is urgently requested.

LENTEN LANTERN SERVICES.

By the time this magazine is published, three of the Lantern Services will have taken place. The series is entitled, "Heroes of the Faith." The slides are very good reproductions from pictures painted by outstanding artists. Each set deals with the principal events in the life of the subject whose name gives title to that particular set. Those already dealt with are:—"St. John the Baptist," "Elijah" and "Abraham." Those still remaining will be shown respectively on Wednesday 4th, 11th, 18th, 25th of March, and on Good Friday Evening. The subjects in order of the dates are:—"Joseph," "Moses," "Daniel," "Jesus the Lionhearted," and, "The Way of Grief." The services begin at 7 p.m., lasting one hour.

ALL ARE INVITED TO ATTEND.

CHURCH ELECTORAL ROLL.

All who desire to be enrolled as communicant members of the church are reminded that the necessary forms should be completed and returned to the Rector not later than March 22nd. Forms can be obtained on application to the Rector.

BISHOP'S VISIT TO TEVERSAL.

The Lord Bishop of Southwell has arranged to visit Teversal on Tuesday March 31st, for the purpose of meeting members of the Church Council, and members and friends of the congregation.

There will be a service in church at 6.30 p.m., followed by a Reception in the Manor Room. Refreshments will be provided for which tickets will be obtainable from the Rector, or members of the congregation until Tuesday, March 24th.

DEDICATION OF CHURCH CHAIRS.

The Rector hopes to have the new chairs in Church by the date of the Bishop's visit, and if that can be accomplished the Bishop will dedicate them.

A dept of gratitude is due to all who have already responded to the Rector's appeal. He will be glad to hear as soon as possible of others who may wish to join him in this effort, as the presentation plates, bearing the names of donors, should be prepared at an early date.

OLD FOLKS' TREAT.

SKEGBY, STANTON HILL, AND TEVERSAL.

The response made to the visits of the Teversal Collectors—Mrs. Maclaren, Mrs. J. F. Keetley and Mrs. G. Winterbottom was again exceedingly gratifying. The sum of £8/13/2 was handed to the committee and the Rector was asked to express thanks to all who so kindly contributed to what has become a much enjoyed reunion of the older folk of our district. This year the longevity prizes for gentlemen at this end of the district were won by Mr. Harpham of the Wharf, Teversal, and Mr. Marriott of Fackley Road, Teversal, but already an account of the happy evening has appeared in the local press. It is fitting however that this expression of gratitude should appear in the Parish Magazine.

FOR GIRLS AND BOYS.

TRUE MISSIONARY STORIES—NO. 13.

"GREED" AND "STUPID."

"Greed" was a boa constrictor more than twelve feet long but not more than six inches thick at the biggest part. "Stupid" was a sheep, full grown and ought to have had more sense than he showed on the day of which I write. It so happened that Greed lay amongst the long grass with blinking wicked eyes, while Stupid wandered with his companions nibbling at the grass here and there, nose to the ground and never paying any heed to the fact that he was getting further and further from his friends, when—SNAP. Greed's jaws flew open and caught poor Stupid by the head and then a struggle began. But it was Stupid that did all the struggling. Greed just held on and poor Stupid went slip, slip, slipping down Greed's slimy neck until instead of looking like a serpent he looked like a fat hose-pipe with a big bulge at one end.

The Rectory,

March, 1931.

My Dear Friends,

In my letter to you this month I wish to express profound gratitude for the splendid response to my appeal for one hundred new chairs.

I have been deeply impressed by the voluntary offers that have been made, especially from some friends who belong to other churches and even to other denominations. Many too who have not been able to help financially have helped one greatly by kindly encouragement expressed in other ways. To one and all I feel deeply thankful, chiefly because, through this effort friendship and good-will have been discovered by me that otherwise I might never have had the pleasure of knowing. Following this is a list of all who have made possible the purchase of the chairs.

Again thanking you.

THE LATE MR. JOHN GRANT.

It is with deep regret that we have to record the passing of Mr. John Grant which took place on March 3rd.

Although Mr. Grant had been unwell for some time, his decease was by no means expected, and at the end came as a great shock to many, especially his relatives and immediate circle of friends.

For long years Mr. Grant held himself responsible for decorating the Manor pew and other parts of the Church at festival seasons, and although he had retired from active service as gardener at the Manor, he carried on and intended to carry on, as long as he was able, that good work in the House of prayer. No higher tribute could be paid to any man than was paid to him for his 31 years of faithful service to the Carnarvon family, and those who knew him closely knew that he carried that same faithfulness into all the relationships of life. Our heartfelt sympathies go out to his sorrowing widow and family.

TEVERSAL COUNCIL SCHOOL.

NORTH NOTTS. MUSICAL FESTIVAL, MARCH 11TH.

The children were entered for five Classes, and in each they were awarded a Challenge Banner and a First Class Certificate. The adjudicator, Dr. Fred Wood, in the course of his remarks stated that the children and their conductress had given him a real treat. A remarkable feature of the singing was the uniformity of the phrasing.

“In the first of the classes,” commented the adjudicator, “the choir showed very good training, and gave a delightful performance.” He could not but offer a word of sincere congratulation upon the high musicianship evinced by the singing of the children. The boys also gave evidence that their was musicianship behind their careful training. The Sight Reading was very satisfactory, and he liked the methods adopted by the teacher in getting them to beat their own time. The standard reached in this class was very high.

The various classes were as follows:— Schools with an average attendance of under 90. “Tea Time in Autumn,” (Cyril Winn), and “I Have Twelve Oxen,” (Eric H. Thirman). Marks, 83 and 85, total 168.

Girls voice production. “The Sea Goddess,” (Edgar L. Bainton), and “As I Rode Out,” (Martin Shaw), 88 and 90, total 178. In the carol, “As I Rode Out” the adjudicator said this carol was technically a delight to listen to.

Boys voice production. “Spindrift,” (Norman Demuth), and “Lincoln Green,” (Norman Demuth), 82 and 86, total 168.

Schools with an average of under 150. “Childs Song,” (John Ireland), and “The Spider and the Fly,” (round). 90 and 85, total 175.

Singing at sight, two tests. 90 and 85. total 175.

The banners awarded were:— 1. Mrs. Whitaker's Banner, won for the ninth time in succession. 2. Mayor Denman's Banner, won in 1929, 30, 31. 3. Mrs. Kayser's Banner, (boys).

Won for fifth time. 4. Mrs. Huntsman's Banner.
5. Mrs. Peach's Banner, (Girls). Won for fourth

Empire," and "To Music," (Schubert). The children were awarded a total of 158 Marks. In the course of his remarks the adjudicator, Dr.

My Dear Friends,

My letter to you this month must perforce be very brief. I wish however to express heartfelt gratitude for the very kind appreciation you expressed for my ministry in the Easter Offerings and at the services themselves. Apart altogether from the monetary value of your gift, it was a cause for great encouragement, as was also the fact that the number of communicants this Easter had also increased very considerably. Then there was the splendid rally of friends at the Bishop's visitation. For all that and the harmonious working of our Church, Mrs. Maclaren and I are profoundly thankful, and we pray that God will continue to bless the work we are all trying to do for Him

Believe me, your friend and Rector.

EASTER VESTRY AND PAROCHIAL CHURCH MEETING.

The Easter Vestry was held at the Manor Room, on Wednesday April 8th, when the church accounts for the year ending December 31st, 1930, were duly examined and passed as satisfactory. It was noted that the church had given a practical demonstration of its growing interest in the wider claims of the Kingdom of God by the considerably increased contributions it had made to causes beyond the constant and increasing demands made upon it by its immediate obligations.

The Rector after expressing gratitude for the unfailing help given him by the Wardens, and for the spirit of friendship that characterises the performance of their mutual duties, asked Mr. F. T. Saunders to again accept the office of Rector's Warden to which Mr. Saunders assented. Mr. J. Henshaw-Allcock was unanimously and cordially re-elected people's Warden which office he again agreed to accept. Mr. J. F. Keetley, who, for the past few months has fulfilled the duties of Parochial Church Secretary was unanimously elected to that office.

Mr. Keetley was re-elected Diocesan and Ruri Decanal representative, the other Diocesan and Ruri Decanal representative elected being Mrs. Maclaren.

After the exceedingly practical suggestion was made that the Church Council be constituted so that on it, the various church organisations be represented, the following were elected to its membership:— Representing the church:— Messrs. J. W. Henshaw-Allcock, T. W. Machin, N. D. Todd, G. Winterbottom, Mrs. J. F. Keetley, Mrs. T. W. Machin, Mrs. Maclaren, Mrs. Riley, Mrs. Todd. Representing the choir:— Messrs. I. J. Bailey, W. Keetley, Mrs. W. Keetley. Representing the Sunday School:— Miss Clarke. Representing the bellringers:— Messrs. F. R. Elliott and F. S. Parker. Representing the Women's Fellowship:— Mrs. J. #### TEVERSAL CHURCH.

BISHOP'S VISITATION.

Tuesday March 31, was a Red letter day in connection with church matters at the picturesque little village of Teversal, it being the occasion of the visitation of the Lord Bishop of the Diocese.

The beautiful church was crowded at Evening when the Bishop preached a powerful sermon, the chief theme of which was loyalty. Loyalty to God, to King and country, to fellow men and to self.

For some time it has been apparent that the seating accommodation in the church was not sufficient to cope with the large congregations which frequently attended the services and the Rector and Wardens have propounded a scheme whereby 100 new chairs have been procured. These have been presented by many of the members of the church and other friends either as a memorial to some relative who has passed away, or as a token of loyalty and gratefulness to the Mother Church. The chairs have attached to each of them an ivory label denoting the donor or the name of the person in whose memory they are presented. During the service the Bishop consecrated 76 of these chairs for the use of the church. There are still 24 chairs to be received from the makers.

After Evensong most of the congregation adjourned to a Social Evening arranged by the Women's Fellowship and other Church Workers, at which, at the request of the Rector, Mr. N. D. Todd of Teversal Grange speaking on behalf of the Laity, in a graceful speech, welcomed the Bishop and introduced him to the audience, who in reply said it gave him unbounded pleasure to make the acquaintance of the members of the congregation of this beautiful old church and how pleased he was to see so much unanimity in the parish and he devoutly hoped this would continue and flourish. He was highly delighted with the splendid congregational singing he had heard that night in church.

During the evening refreshments were served by the ladies.

Mr. F. T. Saunders, Rector's Warden, in proposing a vote of thanks to the Bishop said how pleased he and the other members of the church were in having His Lordship amongst them, if only for a very short time, and he expressed the sincere hope that he would honour them with another visit at no distant date. Mr. J. Henshaw Allcock, parish Warden, in seconding the vote of thanks endorsed all his fellow Warden had said.

After the Bishop had pronounced the blessing the meeting was closed to allow the Bishop to meet the Parochial Church Council.

This meeting was held in the Manor Room immediately after the Social, and was attended by most of the members of the Council. I.J.B.

The following excerpt from a letter from the Bishop to the Rector makes a practical suggestion how the relationship between church and Diocese can be fostered and maintained, and the Rector will be glad to receive orders for the Southwell Diocesan Magazine from any who would like to receive it. It is so ably edited that it has won a high place among similar publications and is well worth its cost of 2d. a copy, or half a crown a year post free.

FROM THE BISHOP OF SOUTHWELL.

Bishop's Manor,
Southwell,
Easter 1931.

My Dear Rector,

As a result of my visit to your parish, which I remember with great pleasure, I am anxious to lose no opportunity of strengthening the link which should exist between every parish and the diocese. I understand that there are some places which the Diocesan Magazine does not reach. The whole point of the publication of this magazine is that it should be a medium between the clergy and laity, and the Bishop, the Cathedral and Diocesan organisation. I suggest that a copy be taken by every Church Council, and that the official communications, and any other matter of interest should be read out by the chairman or secretary. Encouragement might also be given to individuals to become subscribers.

Yours sincerely,
HENRY SOUTHWELL.

Rev. D. M. Maclaren.

THE WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP.

At the Fellowship Meeting held on Monday April 13th, it was decided to hold the Fête this year on the last Saturday of June or first Saturday in July if the help of the band can be procured for either of these days.

It was also decided that, if it can be arranged, invitations to the outing this year be open to all—ladies and gentlemen alike—who are in any way interested in our church.

The place fixed for the outing is Skegness. The date is to be decided later. The next meeting takes place on Monday, May 4th, at 6-30 p.m., in the Manor Room.

EGG SERVICE.

The splendid gift of 340 eggs was taken to Mansfield Hospital as the result of the egg service which was held on Sunday April 12 at 2-45 p.m. It was attended by the combined Sunday School and Bible Class and parents and friends. The Rector conducted the service and preached. Miss Clarke presided at the organ. The following letter has been received from the Matron in appreciation of the gift mentioned above.

MANSFIELD & DISTRICT HOSPITAL.
April 17th, 1931.

Dear Rector,

Will you please convey, once again, our very grateful thanks to the members of your Church and Sunday School, for the large number of eggs they have so kindly sent in response to our appeal.

In previous letters I have explained how we preserve the eggs now, for use during the winter, when they are so much more expensive.

Eggs can be used in so many ways that they prove an invaluable asset to the housekeeping department—and therefore a great economy to the Hospital.

I am,

Yours faithfully,
M. H. GAMMIE (Matron)

The Revd. D. M. Maclaren,
The Rectory,
Teversal.

THE CHILDREN'S DAY.

The "Children's Day" will be observed on Sunday June 7th. Hymns will be sung at each of the services by the Sunday School Scholars. The morning preacher will be Captain George Brooks of the Church Army, and the Rector will conduct the afternoon and evening services. The offerings will be in aid of the Sunday School Funds.

THE CHILDREN'S HAPPY HOUR.

Mrs. Maclaren wants to meet all girls and boys each Wednesday at the Manor Room, at 5 o'clock, when, after prayer and bright chorus singing they go the Rectory grounds for games if the weather is good.

---

CHURCH WORKERS' SOCIAL.

A number of friends representing the choir, Sunday School staff and bellringers at Teversal Church were the guests of the Rector, wardens, sidesmen and their wives on Tuesday evening, April 14th, at the Manor Room. After supper, an impromptu programme of musical items, recitations and games was thoroughly enjoyed. The time seemed to pass all too quickly, and it was with evident reluctance that the happy party joined hands at 10-30 to bring a most enjoyable evening to a close by singing "Auld Lang Syne."

Copied from the "Free Press" of April 17th.

TEVERSAL DAY SCHOOL.

At the Rector's suggestion Miss Clarke agreed that the senior scholars in the day school should prepare an account of "The Open Afternoon," and that the best paper be published in the Parish Magazine.

While Linda Froggatt's paper is the one chosen for publication, those written by Elsie Wood and Jessie Gray come very near to it in merit, and are therefore very highly commended. We regret however that on going to press we find that want of space compels that the paper named above be held over until next month. A short account of the "Open Afternoon" appeared in the "Free Press" of April 24th.

THE LATE MRS. T. MILLINGTON.

Again we have to record the passing of one of our oldest parishioners—Mrs. T. Millington who was called to her rest on April 4th, at the ripe age of 83.

From the time of the death of Mr. Millington, just over two years ago, those who knew her intimately knew that the break that brought to that long and unbroken companionship affected her very deeply. Yet she tried bravely to become resigned to the sense of longing and loneliness that inevitably followed, and her oft repeated gratitude to God for all His goodness to her will long be remembered. Our deepest sympathies are felt for the mourning relatives in their loss of one, who, though so far advanced in years, must have been a source of great comfort to them.

THE LATE MISS SUSY WILSON.

Another home in our parish which has been recently visited by sorrow is that of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, 31, Crompton Street.

Only four months ago their daughter Kathleen, aged 17, passed away, and now they are called upon to mourn the loss of their daughter Susy who was just 21 years of age. Her illness which was long and lingering was bravely borne. The end came on Sunday morning, April 19th. The funeral took place at Huthwaite on Thursday the 23rd, the service being conducted by the Rector.

To Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and their sorrowing family we offer our heartfelt sympathies.

THE LATE MRS. BARR.

At still another home in our parish—that of Mr. George Barr, No. 1 Crompton Street—sorrow has been present. Mrs. Barr had been ill for a long time. She was a patient sufferer through a very trying illness, and passed away quietly on April 20th. The interment took place at Skegby on Saturday April 25th, the Rector assisting the Rev. J. H. Stamper, Vicar of Skegby, at the funeral service. Our deepest sympathies go out to Mr. Barr and his daughter in their sad loss.

The Rectory,
Teversal
June 1931.

My Dear Friends,

We are again looking forward with great hope to our Garden Fête in aid of the Church Renovation Fund, which is to take place on the Rectory Grounds on Saturday July 4th. Mrs. E. J. Fox, who will be accompanied by Mr. Fox, has very kindly consented to open the proceedings at 3 p.m., and again through the courtesy of Mr. Tagg and the committee of the Stanton Hill Silver Prize Band, we are to be favoured with music by the band throughout the afternoon and evening.

Refreshments will be served at popular prices, and various games and competitions will be arranged. There will be on sale useful household articles and provisions. Contributions of money, refreshments, or articles for sale will be gratefully received by Mrs. Maclaren, Mrs. Henshaw, Mrs. Machin, Mrs. Saunders, and Mrs. Tagg. The Misses Doris and Susy Else, Dorothy Rutland, Gwen Toon, Hetty Ward and Eunice Woodall will be glad to receive suitable contributions towards a White-Elephant Stall. At about 7-30 p.m. the prize distribution will take place in front of the Rectory. Entrance tickets to the Fête which are sixpence each can be had at the Rectory or from members of the women's fellowship and congregation. Already the help of many so willingly offered has greatly encouraged us and I am sure our efforts will be rewarded with as great success as last year.

Believe me, your friend and Rector,
D. M. Maclaren.

THE WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP.

The Women's Fellowship Meeting was held on Monday June 1st in the Manor Room. There was a good attendance in spite of wet weather. Arrangements for the Fête were fully discussed, and at the further meeting on Monday June 22nd, it was decided that the outing which had been arranged to take place on August 8th, be cancelled meanwhile. The next meeting of the fellowship will be on Monday August 10th at 6-30, in the Manor Room.

AN INDIAN EVENING.

Immediately following the Fellowship Meeting on June 1st the Nottingham Youth Players rendered their two missionary plays entitled "A Hut in the Jungle" and "Noni Chatterji." The wet weather compelled the use of the Manor Room instead of the Rectory Lawn as had been hoped. There was a large number present and doubtless there would have been considerably more had it been held in the open air.

The young missionary enthusiasts who came from Nottingham with the Rev. F. L. Grant gave in realistic fashion an excellent idea of actual missionary work as it has to be carried out amongst the women of India. There was no attempt to overdraw the picture but simply to depict what is the everyday task of those who seek to overcome the almost insuperable barriers of caste and superstition behind which the women of India are so strongly entrenched and terribly enslaved. One wonders how much, even after such demonstrations, the folk of this country realise and value the liberty that is their's through the glorious light of the Gospel. As the result of the effort £20/7 was sent to the work of the Church Missionary Society.

The Rev. F. L. Grant will officiate for the Rector at the Services on Sunday July 19th, and will preach specially on the work of the Church Missionary Society.

THE CHILDREN'S DAY.

On Sunday June 7th the Sunday School work was brought before the notice of the congregations when a choir of girls and boys sweetly sang special hymns under the leadership of Miss Clarke at each of the three services. The morning preacher was Captain George Brookes of the Church Army who took as his text:—Ps. 95 : 5—"The Sea is His, and He made it : and His hands prepared the dry land." Captain Brookes urged the children to trust God as their Father simply and always.

In the afternoon the Rector preached on the subject:— "Jesus and the Children." At the evening service the Rector based his subject on the story of the cure from leprosy, and conversion of Namaan the Syrian General which can no doubt be traced to the early religious training given a little Israelitish maid before she was stolen from her parents and made a captive in the home of Namaan.

The aim of the "Childrens Day" is to awaken the real interest of parents and friends in the work that is being carried on in our Sunday School, the importance of which cannot be overestimated.

WHITE ELEPHANT STALL.

We wish to reprint from last month's magazine that it has been suggested that a stall be arranged at the Fête for the sale of anything and everything likely to prove useful in any way whatsoever.

Doubtless many have articles of clothing and other things which, while being no longer wanted for their own use are by no means worthless.—The aftermath of spring-cleaning. It would be a great help if all possessing anything likely to prove saleable on such a stall would kindly bring their contribution to the Rectory, or send a message so that arrangements could be made for it to be collected.

DRUMHEAD SERVICE.

The following Corps Orders will give sufficient announcement of the Special Morning Service to be held on July 5th on the Manor Square facing the Church. Members of the congregation are asked to be in the seats provided for them not later than 10-20.

STANTON HILL, SKEGBY AND TEVERSAL GIRL GUIDES.

The Stanton Hill, Skegby and Teversal Girl Guides held their district Church Parade on June 21st at 10-30 a.m.

There was an exceedingly good turn out. The Company was under the command of District Commissioner (Miss) M. Strachan. The following officers were present:— Captain O. Ray, in charge of the Teversal Guides; Lieut. W. Crowder, in charge of Stanton Hill Rangers; Lieut. D. Keetley and Lieut. E. Strachan, in charge of the Stanton Hill Guides; Captain M. Hackett, in charge of the 1st Skegby Guides; and Brown Owl Crooks in charge of the Stanton Hill and Teversal Brownies. It was the first visit of the Company to Teversal Church and it is hoped that the movement will become so popular in Teversal that such parades will be repeated.

The Officers deserve highest praise for the splendid discipline, evident throughout the Service by the excellent behaviour even of the little Brownies. The Rector deeply regretted having to leave to take duty at a neighbouring Church but he was able to remain to open the Service and welcome the Officers and members of the Company.

The Company were received at the Gates and escorted into Church by the Rector and his Warden, Mr. F. T. Saunders and Captain George Brookes of the Church Army who also conducted the Service and preached.

W. J. SPETCH & SON, PRINTERS, PILSLEY

The Rectory,
Teversal,
August 1931.

My Dear Friends,

I regret the late issue of our magazine this month, the cause being my absence on holiday and the consequent impossibility of obtaining full details of required matter until my return. The exceedingly good report of the Fête which appears in this number has been edited from our two local papers—The "Free Press" and the "Chronicle." It is impossible to over-praise the workers for the way in which they prepared for the Fête. Gifts and labour were given in abundance and everything was in readiness down to the smallest detail, as I am sure the financial result will prove when I am able to announce that in the near future. Had the weather favoured us it would have been a signal success in every sense of the term. And yet it cannot be said that the weather brought actual failure, for in face of disappointment and adverse conditions the staff of workers showed by splendid co-operation and magnificent spirit what they are capable of.

Never have I had occasion to feel more grateful to a band of helpers.

Their cheery optimism and ready initiative all but banished the rain. It was a great privilege to have Mrs. E. J. Fox as our opener. Her gracious presence and that of her daughter was an enormous encouragement, as was also the presence of Mr. Fox later in the day.

Apart altogether from his munificent gift, for which we are deeply grateful, the practical interest Mr. Fox showed then, and always shows in our church life and work, is more to me and my officials than we are able to say. Besides our regular church workers we had the valuable help of Miss Clarke of Skegby who judged in the cake competition and Mrs. J. W. Ward, also of Skegby, who organised that competition.

We are also indebted to Mr. G. Hawksley for the loan of the revolving horse and to Scout Master Hayes who with his boys gave such valuable assistance. It is impossible to name all who so willingly helped at stalls, refreshments, competitions and games.

We all laboured for the good of the Cause, and in the fact that real good was accomplished we all feel mutually rewarded. Special mention must be made however of the Band. We were again deeply indebted to Mr. Tagg and his committee for the magnificent backing of the Band. Words are poor means of expressing all that one feels, but to one and all I must say that I am profoundly grateful. After all, the chief aim of our Fête was to bring us all together in a closer bond of fellowship and I think we must all agree that so far, our united effort was an unqualified success. With every good wish to you all, believe me.

Your friend and Rector,
D. M. MACLAREN.

THE GARDEN FETE.

MARRED BY RAIN.

Edited from the local press of July 10th.

Members of the congregation at Teversal Church, particularly the ladies, were a very disappointed body on Saturday July 4th when the rain rendered necessary an abandonment of the annual garden fête arranged in aid of the Church Renovation Fund.

The wooded and pretty Rectory grounds where the fête was staged, had been well prepared by a willing band of church workers, the members of the Women's Fellowship especially being prominent, and well laden stalls in the shade of stately trees lined the lawn, games and competitions organised, and all was ready for the large crowd which was expected and would, no doubt, have been present but for the weather conditions.

For weeks past the ladies, under the energetic direction of Mrs. Maclaren, wife of the Rector, had been working enthusiastically for the event, no effort being spared in order to ensure that a substantial sum of money might be raised. Almost everyone, in fact, in any way associated with the fine old Church, had taken some part in the organisation, and the Rector himself was indefatigable, and a fine programme had been arranged.

With the spell of fine weather which had been enjoyed earlier in the week, everything promised well. On Friday and Saturday morning the finishing touches were being put to the preparations, and the Rectory grounds presented quite a festive appearance with the gaily decorated stalls, flags and streamers. Entertainments and competitions innumerable had been devised, and everything was in readiness for the opening ceremony, which Mrs. E. J. Fox, wife of Mr. E. J. Fox, had kindly undertaken to perform.

Shortly before two o'clock, however, clouds rolled up ominously, and rain soon commenced to fall. The organisers refused to allow their spirits to be damped, however, and all hoped against hope that the storm would soon pass. Indeed, it appeared as if this would be the case at one time, and stallholders and workers were bravely determined to carry on, whilst a number of visitors also rallied to their support.

At last their was a lull in the downpour, and the opening ceremony was proceeded with in the presence of a very encouraging sized company. The proceedings opened with the singing of the hymn "All people that on earth do dwell," the accompaniments being played by the Stanton Hill Silver Prize Band, who also played a number of pleasing selections prior to and for a short while after the opening.

Following prayer, the Rector, in introducing Mrs. Fox, said they greatly regretted that the weather at the moment was unfavourable, but they were not going to let their hearts down, or let the workers down because of that. A great deal had been done in preparation for the fête. Lady members of the congregation had been working very late and constantly, doing their utmost to ensure that the event should be a success, and they were very grateful to Mrs. Fox for coming to open the fête. They were sorry that Mr. Fox was unable to be with them at the ceremony, but he would be arriving later and they would all be glad to welcome him.

It was a great thing to have Mrs. Fox to open the bazaar, and it was very kind of her to come along. He had pleasure in asking her to declare the fête open.

Mrs. Fox, who was accorded a very hearty reception, in declaring the fête open, said it afforded her great pleasure to visit them, and she was sorry Mr. Fox was not also present. She understood that their fête last year was a great success, and she hoped that, notwithstanding the rain, that day's event would also be a success. She had great pleasure in declaring the fête open.

Little Miss Suzanne Todd then stepped forward, and, with a courtly curtsy, handed Mrs. Fox a beautiful bouquet of choice blooms, for which she was warmly thanked.

Mr. J. F. Keetley, secretary of the Parochial Church Council, and on behalf of the Rector's Warden, who was unable to be present, proposed a hearty vote of thanks to Mrs. Fox for her attendance.

"If you want money for anything, and church work in particular, get the ladies together."

"They would make the articles they were to sell, and if they were short of anything they would go to their husbands, who had to supplement what had already been done." He said amidst laughter.

"The object of that bazaar was, as most of them knew, to secure funds with which to renovate that old Church of Teversal which had stood for many centuries. It dated back to the eleventh century, and the worshippers therein felt they had a duty to perform, Their forefathers left to them a grand old edifice, and it was their duty to hand it down to those who were to follow in the condition in which they themselves received it. But they wanted the money before the work was started, and the people of the parish could provide the money." "He had been told they were now living in a different age, but the sun still rose in the East and set in the West, and in Teversal, though the ages pass along, they still administer the Sacraments in the church as they did hundreds of years ago." Referring to the stalls Mr. Keetley said the ladies had met periodically and had themselves made most of the things which were for sale.

They were greatly indebted to Mrs. Fox for attending to open the fête, and he hoped it would be a great success. He had, added Mr. Keetley, on several occasions had the duty of meeting Mr. Fox, and making representations to him on behalf of men, and Mr. Fox had asked "What are the men doing for themselves?" "If he could prove the men were helping themselves, he was bound to get help from Mr. Fox." It gave him the utmost pleasure to move a very sincere vote of thanks to Mrs. Fox for being present and opening the fête."

Mr. C. W. Tagg, acting for the Peoples' Warden, who was also unable to be present, seconded the proposition, and observed that Mrs. Fox had made considerable sacrifice in attending the bazaar, a thing she often did in order to be present at different meetings and functions for various objects having for their aim the welfare of the people. She was like her husband, for Mr. Fox was always making sacrifices for the men.

He was very glad to associate himself with this effort. They all knew how deserving those who had organised the fête were of encouragement, and support. It gave him great pleasure to second the vote of thanks to Mrs. Fox.

The proposition was heartily accorded. In acknowledging it Mrs. Fox said it had been no trouble and she would only be too pleased to do anything on behalf of the Church at any time.

The company then proceeded to visit the stalls and to seek out the entertainments, but unhappily before much business could be done rain again commenced to fall heavily. The workers did not give in, however, for some time, and good business was done at the stalls which were loaded with fancy and useful articles. But before the competitions could be got under weigh, the rain became increasingly heavy, and as there did not seem any prospect of it ceasing, the refreshment department was transferred to the garage and the contents of the stalls moved into the Rectory and out-houses. The sports and competitions of course, had to be abandoned.

DRUM HEAD SERVICE.

The Church was well filled on Sunday morning July 5th when the Stanton Ironworks Corps of the St. John Ambulance Brigade paraded for their Drum Head Service. Rain made it impossible to have the service in the open as was originally intended. In the absence of Corps Superintendent N. D. Todd, Corps Officer T. W. Machin was in command. The Company assembled on the Teversal Sports Ground and marched to Church headed by the Stanton Hill Silver Prize Band which also led the hymns throughout the service. Mr. I. J. Bailey was at the organ. The Rector conducted the service and preached, taking as his subject "The Faith of Man." Notwithstanding the bad weather and the fact that many of the men had to come long distances the attendance was exceedingly good. Teversal Troup of Boy Scouts under the leadership of Scout Master Hayes also attended the parade. The offertory was devoted chiefly to Mansfield Hospital.

W. J. SPETCH & SON, PRINTERS, PILSLEY

The Rectory.
Teversal,
Sept. 1931.

My Dear Friends,

I am sorry that unforeseen circumstances have prevented an earlier issue of our magazine this month, but you will remember that last month's delivery was somewhat late, and therefore, not more than a month will elapse between that month and this.

Several items of local interest have of late had to be held over because of lack of space, and along with these, the promised series of articles under the title of True Missionary Adventure. I am anxious that our people should read these, especially our young men and women. The Rev. J. H. Webster may visit us during his furlough which I understand may be soon, and tell us personally of his work away in the frozen wastes of our Empire. Meanwhile let us follow him in prayer and sympathy, and as those extracts from his diary appear in our parish magazine, let us search our hearts before God, and make sure that we are not withholding either service or help for the spread of His Kingdom.

In this connection I would like to remind all who attended the Missionary Rally at Chesterfield a year ago that that will be repeated on Monday September 21st, at 7-15 p.m. in the same place, Market Hall, Chesterfield. I regret it is impossible for me personally to arrange a party, this year, but if anyone can attend and give us the benefit of their visit by a report which might be published in our next magazine, I am sure it would be appreciated by many. A full notice of the Rally appears on page three of these notes.

One cannot close this letter without reference to the grave responsibility that rests upon us all in this hour of our nation's need. Never was there a more urgent call to prayer than this crisis brings forth, and therefore there never was a greater opportunity for those who believe in prayer, to prove that they who trust in the Lord shall not be put to shame. "Thou will keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on Thee, because he trusteth in Thee," is a truth that every one of us can prove by personal trust in God, if we will.

May we be enabled so to do.

Believe me, your friend and Rector,
D. M. MACLAREN.

THE RECTOR'S BIBLE CLASS.

RAMBLE TO HARDWICK PARK.

On Saturday, August 22nd, twenty members of the Bible Class went to Hardwick Park for their first ramble this year. Starting from the Rectory at about 2-45 p.m., most of the party walked by "Lady Spencers Walk," arriving at Hardwick just on half-past three. There they were met by the Rector and Mrs. Maclaren who were our host and hostess for the afternoon. Previous rains made it necessary to choose carefully the places for games and picnic. Soon cricket was started, and after about an hour and a half's play the company sat down to tea. Our thanks are due to Mrs. Lowe of the ruins who supplied us with hot water. During tea and immediately afterwards several snaps were taken by one or two photo enthusiasts in the party. Later cricket was resumed followed by rounders.

The homeward journey was commenced just before dusk, and after something like forty-five minutes walk Teversal was reached, thus bringing to a close a most enjoyable afternoon.

Next day at the Bible Class it was decided to have another ramble, also to Hardwick Park, on Saturday September 12th. w.s.j.

SUNDAY SCHOOL TREAT.

The Sunday School Treat took place on Saturday August 29th, when fortunately the weather was fine. Tea was served in the Manor Room at 4 o'clock, after which races and other competitions were organised and carried through on the Rectory Lawn. These continued until after seven o'clock when the young folk gathered for a second round of eatables. On leaving for home each girl and boy received a packet of sweets, the gift of Miss Eleanor Rainsbury, and also a stick of rock which was the gift of Mr. H. White.

Before departing rousing cheers were raised by the children to Mr. White and Miss Rainsburg, and to all who had helped to make the afternoon such an enjoyable one.

THE CHILDREN'S HAPPY HOUR.

Want of space made it impossible to include in last month's issue of the magazine a report of the Happy Hour Treat which took place some weeks ago. The day was one of the few fine Saturdays we have had this summer. Tea was served on the Rectory Lawn after which games and races of various kinds were enjoyed by the children until well on in the evening.

The last Happy Hour Meeting this season was arranged for Wednesday September the 9th. Mrs. Maclaren hopes to resume the meetings when the warm weather begins again, and when, we hope, there will be less rain to mar the jolly gatherings of the wee folk.

VISIT OF AULT HUCKNALL MOTHERS' UNION.

About sixty members of Ault Hucknall Mothers' Union, under the leadership of Mrs. Gleave, wife of the Vicar of Ault Hucknall, visited Teversal on Thursday afternoon, August 27th.

After a short service in church which was conducted by the Rector, the party had tea in the Manor Room. The idea of an afternoon visit to another parish seems to have been a remarkable success with our visitors from Ault Hucknall. By such short outings they have been able to see and worship in many of the fine old churches in this district. An invitation to the members of our Women's Fellowship to visit Ault Hucknall has been received by Mrs. Maclaren, and will be discussed at the next meeting of the Fellowship on October 12th. The occasion will be a united gathering of women's organisations belonging to Bolsover and Ault Hucknall. The date will be October 22nd, and if a sufficient number can go from Teversal, a 'bus or 'buses will be hired for the purpose.

It is estimated that the inclusive cost of fare and light refreshments will be about one shilling and threepence.

THE WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP.

The attendance at the Fellowship Meeting on Monday August 10th, was so spoiled by rain that it was decided to hold another meeting on the Monday following which again suffered because of wet weather.

In spite of these adverse conditions, the Work Stall and White Elephant Stall which were arranged on both occasions did remarkably well in sales. A third meeting was held on Monday, August 31st, to discuss the possibility of an outing to Skegness. The outing took place on Wednesday, September 2nd, but again the weather did not favour the venture. A party of nearly fifty left Fackley Corner at 7-30 a.m. in two very comfortable 'buses belonging to the Supreme Motor 'Bus Co. The journeys to Skegness and back were thoroughly enjoyed, but rain fell almost incessantly during the stay there.

Reassembling at 6 p.m. the return journey somewhat compensated for the disappointing weather, and Teversal was reached about ten o'clock. Another meeting of the Fellowship was held on Monday September 7th, when Miss Marchant, representing the Ladies' Home Mission Union of the Church Pastoral Aid Society, told of some of the work the society's agents are doing in many very needy parishes of our large towns and cities. An offering was taken in aid of the work of the C.P.A. The next meeting of the Fellowship will be the quarterly service in church, and will take place on October 12th, the second, not the first Monday of the month.

TRUE MISSIONARY ADVENTURE.

Extracts from the diary of the Rev. J. H. Webster who was alone and lost amidst the snows of far North West Canada. Mr. Webster was located by Eskimo dogs, and found just in time to save his life.

Saturday January 24th, 1931. Leaving for seal camp about 6 p.m.—“There was a fairly good trail as I could follow the fellows who had just come in that afternoon from the camp. First quarter of the moon—could follow trail well for about an hour, and then a nasty fog came down and made it difficult to see—started to snow, and the snow being soft obscured the trail. About 9 o'clock, had known for sometime that I was lost—saw an island, made for it thinking to find a drift where I could make camp. By this time it was snowing and blowing heavily. Whilst looking for a drift in which to build a snow house, I struck a pressure ridge which had piled the ice high. My sled which was well loaded became stuck. Tried to swing sled off by swinging team to the left. Called “Haw” to leader. Team swung but sled remained fast—got out snow knife and hacked away ice and freed sled. Called to leader to “Mush” and to “Haw,” and gave sled a start. Moved a little, then it was necessary to swing team in several directions to get off ridge. In doing this my leader unsnapped himself and made off. Called to him but no good. So decided to camp for night as there was no deep snow, altho' I did try to build a snowhouse in one place. I unloaded sled and fed the dogs, and then turned sled on its side, tucked the sled cover around and made a shelter. Boiled some water on the primus stove and made tea. Rolled into my sleeping robe at 11 p.m., and slept until daylight.

The Rectory,
Teversal,
September, 1931.

My Dear Friends,

Although I have addressed this letter from the Rectory, Teversal, I am writing it at Scarborough. As many of you know, I am here relieving a friend who has had to undergo a very serious operation. It has been more serious even than I thought when I felt compelled to consent to help him in his great trouble. Fortunately, the worst is now past, so far as the operation itself goes. It now remains for him to pull up strength; that is only a matter of time, and other friends will stand by him during that period. I am deeply grateful for all the help I have received at this time. I am sure you will be grateful with me for the privilege of giving help where it was sorely needed.

Again we are anticipating our Harvest Thanksgiving Services. As in past years, these will be held on the third Sunday in October. I am by no means competent to judge of the success or failure of crops, but I understand that our district has fared far better than many others in agricultural results. Be that as it may, we have had abundant reason throughout the year to trace the good hand of our God; and whether we have been disappointed or not, things might have gone far worse for us. Others have been much less fortunate than we have been. I say that because I want to stimulate gratitude. After all, gratitude even for little gain will stimulate the soul whereas complaint even for great loss can only depress it.

Let us then count our blessings and take full advantage of the opportunity given us by the day specially appointed for us unitedly to give thanks to God for His goodness. Let us make it a day of glad remembrance. A day when we shall provoke one another to praise the name of Him from Whom all blessings flow.

Believe me, your friend and Rector,
D. M. MACLAREN.

THE MISSIONARY RALLY. AT CHESTERFIELD.

It was impossible this year to arrange for a party from Teversal to attend the Church Missionary Society Rally at Chesterfield which was held in the Market Hall on Monday September 21st. Two of our people were present however, and the following report is taken from an account of the meeting sent to the Rector by our Parochial Church Secretary. It was a crowded meeting presided over by the Ven. G. H. Clayton, Archdeacon of Chesterfield. The Archdeacon pled for continued and increased support for the work of the Church overseas and pointed out that any cutting down of mission funds would have a harmful effect on the Church. Doubtless he meant the Church at home as well as abroad for after all, our Charter is "To preach the Gospel to every creature," and any slackening of that must react on ourselves.

He urged upon his hearers the fact that unless we at the home base keep up the supplies the already low salaries of our representatives abroad would be further reduced. The Missionary speakers were:—The Ven. Archdeacon McKay who spoke of the work in Nigeria, and the Rev. A. Dungworth who spoke of the great needs of India. The offering was devoted to the funds of the Church Missionary Society. The singing was led by the choir of Dronfield Parish Church and the Stewards were assisted by the first Hasland Girl Guides who also had charge of the Missionary Literature Stall. In concluding this Missionary Rally report it is fitting to remind all our people that the day upon which we celebrate our Harvest Thanksgiving is the only day in the year in Teversal Church that we take special offerings solely for Missionary work. Let us then rise to the occasion and do our utmost to support those who are bearing the burden and heat of the day.

The Square,
Teveral,
Nov. 1931.

Dear Friends,

I am again enabled by the courtesy of the Rector, through the medium of our parish magazine, to thank all who helped towards the success of "Poppy Day" in Teveral.

Although our contribution to the Earl Haig Fund did not reach the high level of last year, it was a distinct advance if measured by the general success throughout the country.

I am deeply indebted to all who helped by selling and to all who encouraged them by buying. A debt of gratitude is due also to the Rector and Church Warden for the offering taken at the Service of Remembrance and which in spite of a depleted congregation through bad weather was very little less than that given a year ago. It helps one greatly to feel that our efforts for the distressed ex-service men and their dependents, are appreciated; and that has again been shown by the practical expression of sympathy which has been made by their friends in this parish.

Yours faithfully,
G. Grant, (Nurse).

REMEMBRANCE DAY.

In spite of very inclement weather the morning service was well attended.

The Teveral and Silverhill Ambulance division was present under the command of Corps Supt. N. D. Todd with Corps Officer T. W. Machin (late Capt. R. E.) acting as adjutant and C. S. Major J. G. Smith acting as Sergeant Major.

There were also present the Teveral Guides and Brownies under the command of Lieuts. Hackett and O. Ray. The Boy Scouts attended under the command of Scout Master Hayes.

The parade fell in at Stanton Hill girls' school at 9-30 a.m. and moved off headed by Stanton Hill Silver Prize Band. A halt was made at Stanton Hill War Memorial where, after a short service conducted by the Rev. L. J. Stamper, Corporal Bradley placed a wreath. The company was received at Teveral by the Rector and Church Wardens. During the Service floral tributes were placed on the War Memorial and the Roll of Honour called. After each name the congregation joined in the response, "We thank Thee O God," and the same response was made when the Rector added the words:—"And for all those whose names though not inscribed here, are written deep upon our hearts in tender and sacred remembrance." Bugler Hayes sounded the Last Post and, after a Litany of Remembrance had been said, sounded the Reveille. The music for the hymns was led by the band under the leadership of Bandmaster Parkes. Mr. J. J. Bailey led the music for the other parts of the service at the organ. The title of the Rector's address was:—"The Path to Perpetual Peace."

In the afternoon a young people's Peace Service was conducted by the Rector, the preacher being Mr. C. Webster, Lay Reader of Tibshelf. His subject was based on the words—"Remember now thy Creator in the days of Thy youth."

In the evening the Rector again conducted the Service and preached on the subject—"The Comfort of the Man Christ Jesus."

THE WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP.

The last meeting of the Fellowship was merged with the "Dedication Service" held at the unveiling of the memorial to the late Lady Carnarvon on Monday, November 2nd, a full report of which is given below.

It should be said however, that the splendid attendance of the members of the Fellowship, added much to the inspiring spirit of that Service. The Hon. Mrs. Herbert, Lady Victoria Herbert and Miss Gabriel Herbert, along with Archdeacon Hacking were somewhat surprised but of course very gratified at such a fine number gathering on a Monday afternoon. One cannot forget that the children from school added considerably to the congregation.

The next meeting of the Fellowship, arranged for on Monday, December 7th and to be addressed specially by Mrs. Hunt, Probation Officer of Mansfield and head in this Deanery of the rescue and preventive work for women and girls, will be reported in our next issue.

We have to record the death of Mrs. Harper, mother of one of our members—Mrs. Taylor of Stanley. Mrs. Harper who was comparatively young was residing with Mrs. Taylor when she passed away.

She had suffered long and patiently and with wonderful courage. The call came on Tuesday, November 24th and was somewhat unexpected at the end. Her remains were laid to rest in Teversal graveyard on Saturday, November 28th, the service being conducted by the Rector. Our sympathies go out to Mrs Taylor and her father and all her sorrowing relatives.

THE RECTOR'S BIBLE CLASS.

It was a happy party of young folk that gathered on Friday evening November 13th for their social in the Manor Room.

Besides a good number of Bible Class members, teachers and elder scholars of the Sunday School were present. After various games had been indulged in refreshments were served. Games were again started and lasted without break until the company dispersed at 10-30. The success of the social made calls for further events of the same character rather urgent. Consequently another has been arranged to take place on Friday, December 11th, to be followed we hope, by others throughout the season. All members of the Bible Class, Sunday School teachers and elder scholars are heartily invited to the socials, and any others who intend to become members of the Bible Class.

Don't forget the Bible Class meets every Sunday afternoon in the Manor Room at 2-45.

MEMORIAL TO THE LATE DOWAGER COUNTESS OF CARNARVON.

No better report of the unveiling of the memorial to our late Patroness could be given than that which appeared the following week in the "Free Press."

By the courtesy of the proprietors of that paper we are able to reprint the report referred to, and doubtless, many of our friends will want to keep the copy.

BRASS TABLET UNVEILED AT TEVERSALE CHURCH.

STRIKING TRIBUTE AT DEDICATION SERVICE.

Striking tribute to the memory of the late Lady Carnarvon wife of the fourth Earl of Carnarvon, for some years lady of the Manor of Teversal, was paid by the villagers of this pretty little parish on Monday afternoon when a memorial tablet to the deceased lady which has been erected in the Church was unveiled and dedicated.

For a number of years Lady Carnarvon had been closely associated with Teversal, her many kindly and generous actions having won her universal esteem and regard, and it was not surprising therefore to find that there was a crowded congregation to pay a last tribute of respect to her memory. In fact, so large was the attendance at the special service that chairs had to be provided in the aisle.

BRASS TABLET.

The memorial takes the form of a brass tablet provided by members of the deceased lady's family, and it has been erected on the west wall of the Carnarvon pew. Simple in origin, it bears the inscription:--In Memoriam, Elizabeth Catherine, daughter of Henry and Charlotte Howard, of Greystoke, wife of Henry, fourth Earl of Carnarvon, born at Greystoke Castle March 29th, 1856, died at Porto Fino, February 1st, 1929. "Love is of God, and everyone that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God." 1 John, 5, 7. "In sua voluntate e nostra pace." Dante, Paradiso III. (In His will is our peace).

Representatives of the late Lady Carnarvon's family who attended the service of dedication and occupied the Manor pew were Lady Victoria Herbert (daughter of the fourth Earl of Carnarvon), Hon. Mrs. Aubrey Herbert (daughter-in-law), and Miss Gabriel Herbert, and they were accompanied by Mrs. D. M. Maclaren, wife of the Rector of Teversal. Members of the Women's Fellowship were present in large numbers, and the school children also attended.

The service was of a simple but impressive character, and was conducted by the Rector, Rev. D. M. Maclaren. The dedication of the memorial was performed by the Ven. Archdeacon E. Hacking, who also read the special lesson, and hymns which were favourites of the deceased were sung, including "Our Blessed Redeemer" and "Love Divine," Mr. I. J. Bailey presiding at the organ.

PRAYER OF DEDICATION.

The memorial was unveiled by the Hon. Mrs. Aubrey Herbert, after which the prayers of dedication were read by Archdeacon Hacking, gratitude being expressed for her life and example, her high ideals and aspirations, her noble service, not only for Teversal, but for suffering people of our own and other countries, for her cheerfulness and courage in the service of suffering and in danger, for her steadfastness and self sacrifice, even until the end. "Grant unto her," concluded the prayer, "joy and peace, and greater opportunities of service in the fuller life to which Thou hast called her."

Subsequently addressing the congregation, Archdeacon Hacking, quoting the words "The people will tell of their wisdom, and the congregation will show forth their praise," said he had not the least shadow of doubt there were some old inhabitants of Teversal who could be included in the last expression, and who could render verbal testimony of appreciation of the Lady Carnarvon to whose memory that brass tablet had been unveiled and dedicated. He had not had the good fortune to meet Lady Carnarvon, but he learnt from their Rector at the time, something of her work and activities for the benefit of the people of the district, shown in different and many ways. Not only was her association with Teversal, but with the larger area of Mansfield, and in Hospital and Church work in the neighbourhood.

GREATER SPHERES.

That service rendered in Teversal and district was maintained and extended to far greater spheres during the war not only in Nottinghamshire, but in Egypt amongst the wounded at Alexandria. By her own action, she provided nurses and medical needs for the hospital ships, and she rendered service that ought not to be forgotten. It was a loss to the world when they forgot the goodness of people who had laboured for the benefit of humanity, and so they had written on their tombs "Lest we forget." It was evident they had not forgotten the services rendered by Lady Carnarvon by the tablet which had been unveiled. They were manifesting the truth of the fact they did not forget the service rendered to them by those who were gone before them.

Amongst other activities Lady Carnarvon ministered to shell-shocked men in England in practical ways, and also amongst refugees ravaged by malaria; indeed, the many ways in which her Christian activity was manifested in their parish had been extended for the benefit of humanity in other lands. What a blessed record of usefulness they had, and how sad it would have been if no tangible evidence of her work were erected where much of her kindness of heart had been made manifest.

They should use that service for imitation and not only laudation, continued the Archdeacon. They had not all the same kinds of opportunities for usefulness. They did not all have the same mental capacity, the same financial capacity, and the same spheres of opportunity, but if they thought they did not count, let them remember whoever they might be, that all service counted the same with God. He knew their opportunity or lack of opportunity, but what He did ask them was that they should use their talent. Be it one or many, they should use that talent for His glory and the betterment of their fellow men. They knew Lady Carnarvon had left a name behind her "that their praise may be reported." She had left a name for devoted Christian service, and let them also leave such a name that those who came after might be strengthened for the service of Him who did so much for them.

The impressive service was brought to a close with the singing of the hymn "At even ere the sun was set," after which the congregation inspected the tablet.
